We are now looking for a Front-end developer who will join us on this exiting journey and be part of a leading eHealth company.

About the role:

You will work in the development team with a major focus on UI / UX.

Our front-end development tools are Angular and Bootstrap in Visual Studio Code. You will also assist in the development and design of our website built in WordPress. Furthermore, we develop native apps for IOs and Android platforms.

About you:

Senior dedicated developer with extensive experience in front-end development and design of UI / UX. You have experience in Angular, Bootstrap, SQL, CSS, Html and designing tools.

Experience in all aspects of the software development life cycle and system integration.

Knowledge of accepted software engineering practices for the full software development lifecycle, including coding standards, code reviews, source control management, build processes, testing, and operations.

Very good knowledge about client-server programming, application integration, data modelling and GIT.

Ability to troubleshoot problems and provide timely resolutions.

Fluency in Swedish and English in writing and speaking.

Opportunity

In the PainDrainer team, you will be part of a highly competent and diverse team with an entrepreneurial mind-set and great ambitions. You will have a key role in the development team and will also work closely with other functions such as Sales & Marketing and Business Development.

PainDrainer can offer you work in a small, non-bureaucratic environment with fast decision-making. We are striving to be in the front edge technically as well as in usability and you will have an opportunity to develop and grow with the job.

In this recruitment, continuous selection is applied. Warm welcome with your application via email to ingela.kronsell@paindrainer.com. Unfortunately, we are not able to receive questions via telephone but please email us.
